

MESSAGE FROM

AMY MILLER

Assistant Deputy Minister
Superintendent of Motor Vehicles

Hi team,

It's already mid-November and so much is happening this month!

First and foremost, we have a brand-new office space! What a relief, right? I want to extend a huge shoutout to our Business Services and Admin teams—the true heroes behind making this move possible. Thanks to your hard work, we now have a fantastic space designed for connection and collaboration. No more working in silos—let's make the most of this opportunity to connect and create together. I can't wait to see what we accomplish here!

Another big development: we've hired a new Deputy Superintendent of Motor Vehicles. We are very excited to welcome [REDACTED] to the team on November 18th. Then in mid-December, join us in celebrating [REDACTED] incredible career before she officially retires.

November is also a month associated with remembrance. As we observe Remembrance Day and Indigenous Veterans Day, I am mindful that armed conflict and war continues to be the lived experience of people around the world, directly affecting our friends, family, and community members. I recognize that this year feels heavy for many people, and in doing so I am reminded of why I wear a poppy which is best summed up by this quote from Dave Stewart: "When I wear my poppy I'm remembering everyone affected by war, across races, genders, ideologies and borders. I'm remembering the tragedy of war, all wars. I wear in the hope that wars will be a thing of the past."

November 20th also marks the National Day of Remembrance for Road Crash Victims, observed on the third Wednesday of November each year. It's a day to honor those lost or seriously affected by road crashes—losses that impact families, friends, and communities across our province. By sharing these stories, we keep their memories alive, honor those impacted, and strengthen our commitment to safer roads for everyone, advancing our work toward Vision Zero and a safer future.

In this spirit of remembrance, I would also like to take a moment to acknowledge the legacy of the late Murray Sinclair. His contributions to truth, reconciliation, and justice have left an indelible mark on Canada's social and legal landscape, inspiring us to work toward a more inclusive and equitable future.

Finally, please remember that support is always available through our Employee and Family Assistance Services program (EFAS). It's here to help us stay connected and supported, both personally and professionally.

Thank you all for being part of this journey of respect, resilience, and connection.

-Amy
